

I am extremely disturbed by Sinclair Broadcasting's force-fed airing of the extremely partisan "Stolen Honor" only days before the federal election. Without provision of equal time for an opposing point of view, it is clear that this is electioneering, fair and balanced use of (free) public airways. Media consolidation is taking us into dangerous water.

We need STRONGER media ownership rules that expand ownership and enforcement of balanced public airtime so that the interests of democracy supersede the bias of just a few huge companies and their owners.

Democracy demands that we have a balanced presentation on stations that are obligated by law to serve the public interest. Fervently biased presentations like this one do not serve our country well, and should be considered as black marks in the license renewal process.

I appreciate the opportunity to voice my opinion on this matter.
